Remarks

The "Acting Immigration Agent at Geelong reports:

"The "Statesman" was found to be well suited for
"the conveyance of Emigrants, and her fittings and accommodations "are good.

"The provisions and water as to quality and quantity
"gave full satisfaction to the passengers, not the slightest complaint
"having been made at the sitting of the Board or afterwards.

"The Immigrants spoke highly of the attention shown
"them by the Surgeon Superintendent and the Master of the Ship.

"The Immigrants were of the class suited to the "Colony, and appear to have been well selected; they were "principally from the Midland Counties of England and "from Scotland.

"The arrangements for the health and cleanliness
"of the people were carried out with little difficulty; and with "few exceptions they enjoyed good health during the voyage.

"On arrival, there was not a single case of sickness.
"The few deaths that occurred were principally from Diarrhœa.

Shore Comments

That several of the Immigrants by this ship although ineligible for free passages, according to the Commissioners rules did not pay any additional contribution. Of these, three were mechanics, one a groom, one a gardener, and three over fifty years. One aged sixty two was altogether ineligible

Justice in the Surgeon's Journal

That most of the Immigrants were of rather weakly habits and constitution.

That the Ship leaked very considerably, and that the arrangements as to the Galley were bad.

The Master selected the Great Circle, or rather what is called the mixed course in sailing from Tristan d'Acunha to this port, and 51° South Latitude was reached. No serious ill effects appear in this case to have resulted, but the intense cold was much complained of, and the supply of bed clothes was insufficient.

It would probably be advisable in future for Masters to obtain permission from the Commissioners before taking this course, and the emigrants should be warned of the additional clothing required required. It is understood that in 1850 the Master was not permitted, in conveying Emigrants to Adelaide, to go below 40° South Latitude.
