Died 12 June 1894.

Another old and highly respected resident of Clunes has passed away in the person of Mr. Peter Kempson, who died about noon to-day, after a long and powerful illness. The deceased gentleman had resided here for about 36 years, many of which were spent in conducting a private school. On the present Education Act coming into force, he was appointed head teacher of the South Clunes State school, from which he retired some few years back. He was also deputy registrar of births and deaths, and took an active part in several of the local institutions and St. Paul's Church, of which he was warden and hon. treasurer at the time of his death. The deceased, who was 70 years of age, had always enjoyed remarkable health until about a year ago, when he became troubled with an internal complaint of a serious nature, from which he ultimately died. He leaves a widow and grown-up family to mourn their bereavement. The remains are to be interred in the Clunes Cemetery on Thursday next.

Clunes. June 17/94.

Mr. Peter Kempson, the first schoolmaster under the Denominational Board, and subsequently head of the South Clunes state school, from which he retired a few years ago, died to-day, aged 70. He was greatly respected here.

CLUNES, FRIDAY.

Whilst the funeral of Mr. Peter Kempson was in progress yesterday afternoon Mrs. Kempson expired. Her death, however, had been expected for some time past, as she had been a confirmed invalid for many years. The deceased lady was the same age as her late husband, viz., 70 years.

COLERAINE, SATURDAY.

Mr. Richard H. Carlington, state school teacher, Merino, who it was thought had abandoned his intention of contesting Normanby, has published his address to the electors, and will stand in the liberal interest. This makes five candidates of liberal views in the field for this county, and two constitutionalists, the latter being Messrs. Shiels and Thornley. Mr. Shiels was at Condah yesterday canvassing, and his prospects of success are said to be growing brighter every day.
