The funeral took place yesterday at Melbourne Cemetery of Mr. James Smith, who was one of the most notable figures of South Melbourne's history. As far back as 1860 Mr. Smith, who was 77 years of age at death, was principal of the Scots' school in Bank-street, and was subsequently the first head teacher at Albert Park State school. Many of South Melbourne's councillors and leading residents acquired their elementary education under him, and all speak highly of his educational attainments, his force of character, and the thoroughness of his methods. Under his regime the Albert Park school was notable for its fine garden and interesting museum. Deceased's wife predeceased him by some years, but he leaves a family of three sons and three daughters. The funeral was largely attended, and the service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Marshall.
