Seelong, Dec: 3rd 1855

Sir,

In transmitting the passenger lists of the vessels which have arrived at this port during the last month, I beg leave to bring under your notice the memorandum at the foot of the passenger list of the "Aberfoyle", stating that Captain Lem, R. N. refused to sign the list, as the ship did not require any for cabin passengers.

2. On referring to the Passenger Act of 1852, Clause 13, it appears that the Master of every ship, whether a Passenger ship or otherwise, is required to sign two lists, setting forth the name of every Passenger on board; and that the Immigration Officer shall countersign them. In the Abstract of this Act, published ply to ships not coming under the definition of "passenger ships."

3. In your predecessor's letter of Aug. 8th 1853, No 301, ^{53/1065}, I was instructed to require the Masters of all ships, arriving with passengers, however few in number, to produce the necessary lists, described in the Imperial Passenger Act, 1852.

4. With a view, therefore, to my future guidance, I would respectfully enquire whether the annexed list of the passengers by the Aberfoyle is to be considered as correct, or otherwise.
Trusting to be favored with your instructions on this point.

I have the honor to remain,

Sirs,

Your most obedient servant
