Oct 1860

I have much pleasure in testifying to the very able and practical manner in which the crew Mr. Charles L. Morris filled the capacity of Surgeon Superintendent of this Ship for several voyages, and particularly between Liverpool and London and Liverpool and Australia, during which time his conduct as an officer and gentleman and his abilities as Surgeon and of the highest order and such as to give me every satisfaction. He now leaves with a View to pursue his profession which I hope will meet his anticipations, though at the same time I must regret his leaving the service.
