OFFENDERS PUNISHED.

SENTENCES AT BENDIGO.

BENDIGO, Friday.
Mr Justice A'Beckett this afternoon sentenced several prisoners who had been found guilty of or who had pleaded guilty to offences during the current sittings of the Bendigo Supreme Court.

SEVEN YEARS' GAOL.
Charles Alfred Guy, aged 38 years, had pleaded guilty to a shocking crime at Swan Hill.

Mr O'Halloran appealed for leniency on prisoner's behalf, stating that he was a pioneer of the Swan Hill district, and had on three occasions saved persons from drowning in the Murray River.

His Honor said that while the prisoner's past acts of bravery were taken into consideration, such an offence as he had been guilty of had to be punished.

Guy was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment, with hard labor.

SENTENCING THE ASSAILANT.

SEVEN YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

In the Criminal Court yesterday Mr. Justice Hood sentenced William Lewis, aged 33 years, who had been found guilty of the manslaughter, by shooting, of John Colin Cunningham, at Richmond, on August 14, to seven years' imprisonment, with hard labour.

Mr. Paull addressed the Court on the prisoner's behalf. He said the shooting had obviously been the outcome of drink. It had been remarked during the trial that after the shooting Lewis had not shown any concern as to the condition of Cunningham, but, as had been shown in the evidence, Cunningham continued to pursue Lewis for some distance after the shooting took place.

Mr. Justice Hood, addressing the prisoner, said:—You were presented on a charge of murder, and the evidence was such that the jury might easily have convicted you on that charge, but they took a lenient view. You carried a loaded revolver about, and pushed yourself into company where you had no business. If the unfortunate Cunningham struck you, you made friends with him and had a drink with him. Then you in a cowardly way struck him in the back and ran away, and when he gave chase you drew a revolver and shot him. If such things are allowed no man's life would be safe.

INDECENT ASSAULT.

Michael Long, a middle-aged man, was placed on trial on a charge of having criminally assaulted a 15-year-old girl. He pleaded not guilty, and was defended by Mr. Paull (instructed by Messrs. Rogers and Rogers).
Mr. Finlayson, K.C., conducted the case for the prosecution, which was to the effect that the offence had been committed on September 7, at a box factory in Normanby-road, South Melbourne. It was alleged that the girl mentioned in the charge had with two other girls been admitted to the factory premises by the accused out of working hours. The accused provided a swing for the girls, showed them some illustrated periodicals in his room, and then committed the assault in the presence of the other two girls. Medical evidence was given to show that the girl had been maltreated.
The accused gave evidence on oath, and denied that he had committed any impropriety whatever.
The jury gave a verdict of guilty. Long was remanded for sentence.
